

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY NATIONAL SECURITY MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

The National Security Management Program is a six-week resident course of instruction conducted on the campus of Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York. This program prepares senior military and civilian leaders for demanding assignments and challenges within a continuously evolving national security and strategy environment.

Who Should Attend

Specifically designed for DoD's senior officials at the O-6/GM-15. Enrollment for non DoD participants is limited to the following: National security executives from other Federal agencies and departments, Defense Industry Executives, Members of the National Guard, Congressional staffers, and Media print or broadcast journalists covering defense-related issues.

Program Highlights

- Examine current issues that impact national security;
- Explore the national security decision making process;
- Consider the fundamental framework of national security policy and strategy; and
- Discuss the range of external factors that will affect the national security management agenda.

Offerings: Annually, six-week session

Contact: Kathy Millson, Senior Administrator
National Security Studies
Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs
219 Maxwell Hall
Syracuse University, NY 13244-1090
Fax: 315-443-1685
E-mail: kmillson@maxwell.syr.edu
Web site: www.nss.edu

Telephone: 315-443-3085

Program Dates: March 22 – April 30, 2004; March 28 - May 6, 2005

Cost: $20,000 2004 (Includes: Tuition, lodging, meals, transportation, instructional materials, use of computer labs, athletic and research facilities, and special events)

Application Deadline: One month prior to start of program